

PROLIFE FACTS

It happens every day in NZ . . . a young, unmarried woman discovers she has fallen pregnant unexpectedly. It is never anticipated and invariably presents problems. For the young woman, the problems may heap up, one on top of another. Does she love the father? Does he love her? Can they make a life together with the child? If not, what next?

Abortion frequently comes up as the easy solution. It isn't! It can be the worst decision a girl ever makes. Pregnancy counsellors throughout the country are dealing with broken minds, troubled souls and broken hearts from many who regret making this decision. Support is the life-blood a young woman in this situation needs. With it, she can make a good life for herself and her child even if she has to do it, not quite alone, but with the understanding and support of the people around her, who know why she is preserving a life.

It won't be easy. In fact it will be hard but the loving support of family, friends and congregations will see her and her child through difficult times, especially in the first few years. We all need love and support from others at difficult times in our own lives.

Fact: 83% of those suffering post-abortion stress said they would have carried to term if they had received support from boyfriends, family or friends.
