

PROLIFE FACTS

Professor Sir William Liley, the renowned “father of foetology” at National Women’s Hospital, was never challenged by his peers on when human life began.

He once wrote: “Because of the facts uncovered by my research as a doctor, I have no alternative but to regard the unborn child as my patient, and to protect and respect his life as I would the life of any other patient.

“In my opinion, therefore, abortion is abhorrent, and represents a policy which would be regarded as immoral and criminal with a patient in any other age group.

“From my clinical experience, I am convinced that unborn children are individuals and human beings, who should have legal protection and who are capable of receiving and responding to medical care.”

In 1970, he embarked on a nationwide tour with Dr Pat Dunn, lecturing in small towns and cities alike about the wonders of human development and the horror of abortion. People listened because he had the medical credentials to back up his arguments. 46,000 Kiwis became paid up members of the pro-Life movement.

For more information about pro-life issues, contact Voice for Life on (09)4430995.

Half page
95 x 128.5

PROLIFE FACTS

In 1970, the renowned “father of foetology” Professor Sir William Liley, embarked on a nationwide tour with Dr Pat Dunn, lecturing in small towns and cities alike about the wonders of human development. As a result, 46,000 Kiwis became paid up members of the pro-Life movement. For information on pro-life issues, contact Voice for Life (09)4430995.

Eighth page
47.5 x 128.5

PROLIFE FACTS

Professor Sir William Liley, the renowned “father of foetology” at National Women’s Hospital, once wrote: “Because of the facts uncovered by my research as a doctor, I have no alternative but to regard the unborn child as my patient, and to protect and respect his life as I would the life of any other patient.” In 1970, he embarked on a nationwide tour with Dr Pat Dunn, lecturing in small towns and cities alike about the wonders of human development and the horror of abortion. People listened because he had the medical credentials to back up his arguments. 46,000 Kiwis became paid up members of the pro-Life movement. For more information about pro-life issues, contact Voice for Life on (09)4430995.

Quarter page
95 x 64

PROLIFE FACTS

In 1970, the renowned “father of foetology” Professor Sir William Liley, embarked on a nationwide tour with Dr Pat Dunn, lecturing in small towns and cities alike about the wonders of human development. As a result, 46,000 Kiwis became members of the pro-Life movement. For information on pro-life issues, contact Voice for Life (09)4430995.

Banner
25 x